1. The first part of the document is a letter from the President of the United States to the Congress, dated January 3, 1862. It is a message of condolence to the people of the State of California, who have recently suffered a great calamity in the form of a severe earthquake. The President expresses his sympathy for the victims and offers his prayers for their recovery. He also mentions that the President has received a report from the Secretary of the Interior, Mr. G. K. Warren, that the earthquake has caused a great deal of damage to the public buildings in San Francisco. The President expresses his regret that he cannot do more to help the victims, but he offers his personal assistance and that of the Government.

1. The first part of the document is a letter from the President of the United States to the Congress, dated January 3, 1862. It is a very long letter, and it contains a great deal of information about the state of the country at that time.
